Forecast For Northern Ireland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Wednesday 22 Sep 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Cloud and mainly dry on Thursday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Cloudy this evening with a little light rain in places. Becoming dry with clear periods after midnight, although cloud and little drizzle will return to the northwest later. Brisk westerly winds. Minimum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Thursday:
Some early brightness. Otherwise a cloudy day, many places dry but a little drizzle possible in the far north at first. Brisk westerly winds soon moderating. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Cloudy on Friday with some patchy light rain, mainly across western counties. Mainly dry over the weekend with some occasional brightness.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.